What Do You Want?

Each year, the Journal has a theme issue—one issue of the six annually that focuses on one subject identified as important to Extension educators. What do you think we should be discussing in our professional journal?

Extension: The Human Touch, coming out in September/October is the 1982 theme issue. Manuscripts submitted by February 1 will be considered for that issue.

But now is when we need to identify the theme for 1983. What would you like to have discussed in your professional journal . . .

- Evaluation
- Extension in the 80s
- Citizen involvement in Extension
- Lifelong learning

Would you check one—or add others? The possibilities are unlimited. But the topic chosen must be important to significant numbers of our Extension colleagues as well as the organization.

If you have a specific subject you'd like to see discussed in a theme issue or as a series of articles over several issues, let me know the topic and why, in a sentence or two, you think it's important for us in Extension. Expressed reader interest will influence my decision.
